Union Terminal is a special building in Cincinnati. As a train station it welcomed soldiers home from war. When train travel declined it took on many other roles. Now, as Cincinnati Museum Center, it is a place where all ages come to learn about science and history through interactive exhibits and play-based educational activities.

NEAR - PAST
- Journal Question 1: What roles did Union Terminal play in the past?
- Why was it important to the community?

NEAR - PRESENT
- Journal Question 2: What makes Union Terminal important today?
- Why do we save old buildings?

---

The Maya population arose in Central America as an advanced community a long time ago. Over time they have responded to changes in their environment and community to still thrive today.

FAR - PAST
- Journal Question 3: Why are the Maya a people we celebrate for their history?
- What made the Maya people successful in the past?

FAR - PRESENT
- Journal Question 4: Who are the Maya today?
- Why do people continue to practice traditions?

---

Bonus Journal Question: Many Maya people live here in Cincinnati today and influence our local culture. What are some things you do that are similar to the Maya and may have originated long ago?
